

Example MA Global Diplomacy study schedules

Please find example study schedules below for Global Diplomacy students initially registering in October and April. Typically, students will register for one taught module (core or elective) and one dissertation module during each registration window, as set out in the Programme Regulations. While registration for the dissertation modules takes place at the same time as for the October and April sessions, note that study begins on these modules at a later point, in February and August respectively. The elective modules included below have been selected at random and may not be available in the sessions indicated.

Core modules are indicated in purple, elective modules are indicated in green and dissertation modules are indicated in blue.

October starter

Session	Module	Registration takes place	Study begins
1	October	DYM010 The art of negotiation	June – September/October	October
		DYM501 Research methods and ethics	June – September/October	February
2	April	DYM030 Economics, politics and society in Europe	December – March	April
		DYM502 Research proposal	December – March	August
3	October	DYM130 Diplomacy and power: actors in Russia and Eastern Europe	June – September/October	October
		DYM503 Literature review	June – September/October	February
4	April	DYM150 International organisations	December – March	April
		DYM504 Dissertation: Write up and submission	December – March	August

April starter

Session	Module	Registration takes place	Study begins
1	April	DYM030 Economics, politics and society in Europe	December – March	April
		DYM501 Research methods and ethics	December – March	August
2	October	DYM010 The art of negotiation	June – September/October	October
		DYM502 Research proposal	June – September/October	February
3	April	DYM150 International organisations	December – March	April
		DYM503 Literature review	December – March	August
4	October	DYM130 Diplomacy and power: actors in Russia and Eastern Europe	June – September/October	October
		DYM504 Dissertation: Write up and submission	June – September/October	February