Additional costs

In addition to the Programme Fees payable to the University, you should budget for textbooks (this will depend on your course selection and you should consult with your teaching centre first) and for the fee charged by your local examination centre. Examination centre fees are not included within the fees set out above. This fee will vary from centre to centre and you should contact your proposed examination centre(s) for details of their fees to factor them in to the overall cost of completing the programme. You can find contact details for all our examination centres on the website. The University of London is only responsible for the examination centre fee charged at London centres. You will be charged £94 per sitting when using London examination centres.

You should also budget for tuition costs for studying at a recognised teaching centre.

The University will charge an online examination administration fee of £10 for each examination paper held online. The fee is in addition to the exam entry fees as advertised for your programme. Goods and Services Tax (GST)

The University is required to add Goods and Services Tax (GST) to certain fees paid by students resident in certain countries. Further information can be found on our web page. All student fees shown are net of any local VAT, Goods and Services Tax (GST) or any other sales tax payable by the student in their country of residence. Where the University is required to add VAT, GST or any other sales tax at the local statutory rate, this will be added to the fees shown during the payment process. For students resident in the UK, our fees are exempt from VAT.

What to pay

Programme fees may be paid in one of two ways:

- Either the Whole fee, a single payment, covering the registration fee and all module fees for the MSc degree, PGDip or PGCert; or
- Modular fees, for the MSc degree, PGDip or PGCert, requiring payment of the respective registration fee plus the fees for the modules you select to study in the first year. To complete your registration, you must pay at the same time both the registration fee and the fee for at least one module. In subsequent years, the fees for additional modules are payable.

If we allow you to transfer from the PGCert to the PGDip or MSc, or from the PGDip to the MSc, you will have to pay a progression fee. When you transfer between the PGCert and the MSc, you will have to pay a double progression fee, as indicated above. This is in addition to the fees for the additional modules you will take for the new qualification.

Fees must be paid in full and in accordance with the University's deadlines. The module fee is payable once per module and includes the first entry for the examination.

To study Individual modules on a stand-alone basis, you are required to pay a single fee upon registration. This fee covers registration and, as applicable, the first entry for the assessment.

Additionally, where applicable, you may be required to pay:

- An examination resit fee, which is payable when entering to resit a previously failed examination.
- An extension of registration fee, which is payable if you are permitted to extend your period of registration for a stand-alone Individual module.

If you are permitted to proceed from a stand-alone Individual module to the PGCert, PGDip or MSc in Veterinary Epidemiology and Public Health, you will be required to pay the respective registration fee for the award, and the fee for the remaining modules.

Application fees are not charged for individual modules.

When to pay

- Programme Fees are payable at the same time that you register.

- Programme Fees for the 2023 session will be effective from 1 March 2023 until 28 February 2024.
- For the MSc, PGDip and PGCert, 15 January 2024 is the closing date for both initial registration and for new modules.
- For CPD Individual modules, you can register throughout the year; fees change on 1 March.

How to pay

Your payment provider may apply additional transaction fees, including in respect of any refunds. (If in doubt, please check with them before making a payment.) Further information about fee payment options can be found in the “How to pay your fees” link above.
