What to pay

Programme Fees are per module and are paid at initial or continuing registration. You are encouraged to complete within two years, (first year: two core modules and dissertation part 1; second year: four elective modules and dissertation part 2), but you can take up to five years to complete the programme and pay per module when you register. Fees may be paid in one of the following ways.

Either

1. A single payment, covering all module fees for the MA degree;

Or

2. The fee for modules to be studied in the first year. To be registered, you must pay the fee for at least one module. In subsequent years, only the fees for any new modules or the dissertation (parts 1 and 2), as applicable, are payable. If you want to pay for modules as you progress through your studies, the following deadlines apply:
- To start a core or elective module in October, you must register and pay for it by 1 October.
 - To start a core or elective module in March, you must register and pay for it by 1 March.
 - To start Dissertation Part 1 or Part 2 in February, you must register and pay for it by 15 January.
 - To start Dissertation Part 1 or Part 2 in July, you must register and pay for it by 15 May.

Please note: you can also register for dissertation modules at the same time as registering for core and elective modules, and we would recommend that you do this if possible.

Dissertation Part 1 includes Dissertation study periods 1 & 2 and submission of the research proposal.

Dissertation Part 2 includes Dissertation study period 3 and the writing up and submission of the dissertation.

Where applicable, you are required to pay the following Programme Fees in full and in accordance with the University's deadlines:

- The module fee is payable once per module (except in the case of deferral) and includes the first attempt at the coursework.
- The dissertation fee (parts 1 and 2) includes the first submission of the dissertation.

Additionally, where applicable, you may be required to pay:

- A coursework resubmission fee when resubmission of coursework is required in the event of a previously failed module.
- A dissertation resubmission fee to resubmit a previously failed dissertation.
- A dissertation second deferral fee is payable if, having already deferred submission of the dissertation thesis on one occasion, it is agreed that you may defer submission on a second occasion.

- Students will receive separate instructions about how to pay their resit fees and the entry deadline with their invite.

How to pay

Details on how to pay your fees are available on the website.

Your payment provider may apply additional transaction fees, including in respect of any refunds. (If in doubt, please check with them before making a payment.) Further information about fee payment options can be found in the link above.

Generally, students whose fees are paid by sponsors will be expected to correspond directly with their sponsor regarding Programme Fees. The University can provide an invoice, if needed, upon request. Materials will not be despatched and VLE access will not be available until Programme Fees have been received.

Fee increases

Programme Fees are subject to annual revision and typically may be increased by up to 5% per annum. If you are beginning your studies in March of any year, you may be subject to fee rises from the following September, due to the academic year fee review. You may register and pay fees for modules throughout the year during set registration periods.
